

ELWOOD, IND., ALL SET FOR NOTIFICATION

Estimate 200,000 Will Attend Festivities
Today

Elwood, Ind., Aug. 16.—(P)—This home town of Wendell Willkie, which registered a population gain of only 222 in the last ten years, was census takers' nightmare tonight as thousands poured into it to see the Republican presidential nominee find out officially that he is his party's choice.

"Home Town" is a misnomer. Actually this capital of the Indiana tomato belt, where Willkie drew his first breath 46 years ago, is a fourth class city of Indiana's sixteen such—and normally boasts 10,798 persons (1940 census).

Tonight its population was anybody's guess and even Homer Capehart of 1938 "cornfield conference" fame, the Willkie notification general chairman, wouldn't hazard an estimate on the size of the crowd by tomorrow afternoon when Willkie accepts formally the nomination.

Capehart just hopes "everybody comes, everybody enjoys himself and everybody gets home safely."

It was like every other crowd that may be 200,000 or 300,000 and included the proverbial "rich man, poor man, beggar man and thief."

Yes, thief too. Police authorities frankly expected Elwood to attract its quota of pickpockets and there were plenty of plainclothesmen from other cities on hand.

With hot weather making coats extra baggage, police warned that money in the hip pocket—even with the pocket buttoned—was an invitation to the light-fingered gentry.

The crowd came by plane, train, automobile and hitch-hiker's thumb. At Indianapolis, R. M. Harvey, Pennsylvania railroad division passenger agent, said his line would bring about 35,000 persons into Elwood by tomorrow. Frank Lincville, Nickel Plate official, said his road would handle around 4,000.

Capehart and other arrangement committee members said no one would go hungry, that all would eat at standard prices "no matter how large the crowd."

The Italian for anything except water or soft drinks didn't have that assurance.

There are 27 alcoholic beverage outlets in Elwood, including taverns, drug, package and grocery stores and clubs. The Indiana alcoholic beverage commission turned down applications for temporary permits.

Amateur statisticians figured there were about 1,000,000 bottles of soft drinks on ice or ready for it.

Automobile or bus caravans here or on the way represented almost all of the 48 stages and were directed into Elwood by state troopers. Tomorrow a state police airplane will drone overhead, spotting traffic snarls and directing police aid to clogged inlets by radio.

Celebrities were a dime a dozen, including governors, senators, prominent figures in stage, screen and newspaper and magazine fields and business leaders.

Under ordinary circumstances, a lot of them would be good for newspaper interviews and maybe a picture.

But not tonight or tomorrow.

The only story is Wendell Willkie, the "Elwood boy who made good."

DWIGHT GREEN HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

La Salle, Ill., Aug. 16.—(P)—Dwight H. Green, Republican nominee for governor, suffered minor cuts about the face and hands early today when his automobile turned over in a ditch a mile east of here on U. S. Route 6.

Green said he was blinded by the lights of an approaching machine. He continued his journey after receiving first aid treatment here while repairs were made to his car.

He spoke last night at the northern Illinois Republican rally at Starved Rock State Park.

MEN LAND ON SOUTH COAST OF IRELAND WITH EIGHT BOMBS

Dublin, Aug. 16.—(P)—Three men who landed on the south coast of Ireland with eight incendiary bombs, four tins of explosives and 2500 (3,200) in Bank of England notes received seven years jail sentences today.

The men, Henry Obed, Herbert Tribuhn, Dieter Gardner, landed near Cork on July 7 and at their trial that they were brought from France on a French vessel.

88TH ILLINOIS STATE FAIR TO START TODAY

Million Visitors Are Expected During
Next 9 Days

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 16.—(P)—Gates of the Illinois State Fair swing open tomorrow for the 88th annual renewal of the exposition which General Manager E. E. Irwin predicted would attract almost a million visitors in the next nine days and nights.

Boys and girls from the state's farms and cities will take part in the opening day program, designated as "Youth Day." Officials said at least 25,000 members of various statewide organizations would be on hand for competitions and a youth pageant.

The fair, continuing through Sunday, Aug. 25, will be a succession of special "days," one of the largest of which will be Veterans' Day Sunday. Colorful drill teams, bands and drum corps of all the major service men's organizations will perform and Chairman A. C. Larson forecast a record attendance of near 150,000.

In addition to the Youth Day ceremonies, judging of livestock of 4-H club members and other junior department exhibitors will be held tomorrow and at night Illinois bred horses will be displayed in the first of the fair's nightly society horse shows.

Opening of fair "week"—still a gala event in the lives of many rural youths and grownups too—found the 30-acre fairgrounds at the north edge of the capital and the city itself gaily decorated for the occasion.

This year $181,000 in cash prizes will be shared by fair exhibitors. More than half of this will be paid to the exhibitors of livestock, for which $96,000 will be awarded in nine divisions. In the junior livestock show, the fair posted $12,300 in prizes to be sought by at least 2,000 young farm boy and girl exhibitors.

Highlights of the fair will be five days of Grand Circuit harness racing starting Monday; the nightly horse shows in the coliseum. Republican Day on Wednesday, Governor's (Democratic) Day on Thursday, the grand parade of premium livestock on Friday, American Automobile Association sanctioned race Saturday, Aug. 24, and national championship motorcycle race Sunday, Aug. 25.

There will be a wide variety of other attractions too, and exhibits constituting a showman's Illinois agricultural and industrial products.

The Youth Day program begins with junior bands and drum and bugle corps competing in the morning, a parade of all youth organizations at noon (CST) and a pageant in the afternoon depicting their activities.

The fair will operate on standard time, rather than daylight time which the rest of the capital observes.

Appear Before Assembly Group

Chicago, Aug. 16.—(P)—Chicago investment counselors recommended today that the legislature wait until a proposed federal law had been tested before attempting to set up regulations for the control of their business in Illinois.

Appearing before a legislative subcommittee which will hold a series of hearings to determine whether investment advisers should be subjected to the same regulations as securities firms, the counselors said a bill had been sent to the White House covering their operations in the interstate field.

Sidney Stein, Jr., one of a score of counselors who attended the hearing in the offices of the Cook county Board of Commissioners, said the federal bill has been worked out with the close cooperation of the profession and might well meet the immediate needs of the situation, if any needs did exist.

Members of the subcommittee are Senator Earl B. Sears (R-Springfield), chairman, and Reps. Edward J. McCabe (D-Chicago) and Edward J. Salter (D-Chicago). Salter told the counselors that the newspapers were full of advertisements by people who called themselves "investment counselors" and that there had been some complaints about their activities.

FIREMEN OVERCOME

Chicago, Aug. 16.—(P)—Four firemen were overcome today while fighting a minor fire in the basement of a frame house which was being fumigated. They were taken to a nearby hospital, where none was reported in a serious condition.

CLAIM BOMBING OF TWO GREEK SHIPS, MISTAKE

Italian Naval Attache
Apologizes To Greek
Premier

Athens, Aug. 16.—(P)—The Italian naval attache was reported in reliable circles tonight to have apologized to Premier John Metaxas for the aerial bombing directed at two Greek destroyers today, declaring the Italian fliers had mistaken them for British ships.

(At this point the Greek censor cut the connection in which this story was being telephoned to Budapest. The following matter was received earlier in the evening.)

The Greek government ordered partial mobilization. A high authority declared definitely that the commanders of the destroyers, against which 17 bombs were directed without a hit, had identified the attacking planes as Italian. Witnesses told the same story.

The officers of the warships—the Vasilefs Georgios I and the Vasillisa Olga—had no wireless the Greek navy ministry.

In the mobilization call for Aug. 20 was one category which military quarters said included anti-aircraft gunners and observers.

Nevertheless, the government of this small pro-British kingdom—facing what some diplomatic observers interpreted as substantially an undeclared war—carefully refrained from comment, insisting that the bombers were of "unknown" nationality.

The destroyers were attacked en route to the island of Tinos in the Aegean sea, where only yesterday the Greek cruiser Hellis was mysteriously torpedoed—by an "unidentified" submarine, said the Greek government.

There were signs that the government would maintain its policy of official silence, in the belief that these attacks were planned to force Greece to abandon her neutrality. The country has a guarantee of support from Britain if her independence is attacked.

(In Istanbul, the Turkish parliamentary deputy, Husein Djavid Yelchin declared that "any attack against Greece will have the consequence of British assistance and Turkish intervention.")

Former Business
Agent Of Union
Is Assassinated

William L. Schaaf, Twice
Linked With Slayings
Meets Death

Chicago, Aug. 16.—(P)—William L. Schaaf, 40, whose name had been twice linked with union slayings, was shot and killed tonight by assassins who fled in an automobile.

The former business agent of the Painters' and Decorators' Union was slain as he stepped from his automobile at a south side intersection, apparently to keep an appointment.

There was a burst of gunfire as the assassin, an alleged hit man, stepped into a doorway.

He died a few minutes after being removed to St. George's hospital, with bullet wounds in the abdomen, back and right hand. Police said they found a loaded pistol in his pocket.

Serge Fred Crowley of the detective bureau said it was plain Schaaf had been "put on the spot."

Schaaf was questioned and released in connection with the ambush slaying two years ago of James G. Dugan, czar of the Painters' Union. He was also released after questioning in the killing in 1936 of Mrs. Edna Henneman, wife of George Henneman, then secretary of the Painters' Local.

Schaaf had operated a trailer camp at Highland, Ind., southeast of Hammond, for the past several years.

WILL BE SWORN IN

Nassau, Bahamas, Aug. 16.—(P)—The Duke of Windsor will be sworn in as governor-general of the Bahamas tomorrow morning in a traditional ceremony.

Accompanied by his duchess, the new governor will first set foot on Bahama soil about 8 a. m. (CST). The induction will take place immediately.

British Officially Charge Germans With A Deliberate Attack On Residential Town

By the Associated Press
London, Aug. 17.—(Saturday)—Great Britain officially charged early today that German bombers, part of a huge air fleet which raided London's suburbs and both sides of the Thames yesterday, made a "deliberate attack" on the "residential town of Eastbourne" and killed "several persons."

The accusation was made by the air ministry and the ministry of home defense in a joint communique which said that 71 German planes were destroyed against 18 British fighters lost in the tremendous aerial fighting yesterday. The British pilots of downed planes are safe, however, of the communique said.

The main section of the capital of the British empire was not touched. Eastbourne in peace time is a famous holiday resort on the English Channel with a normal population of more than 37,000. Early last month it was classed as a defense area after being considered for months as a "safe" area.

The British reported that the far-ranging German raiders, who kept up their forays over southern England last night and early today, dropped bombs "at many points in the country districts of Hertfordshire, Essex, Surrey, Hampshire and Oxfordshire. Little damage was done x x x reports indicate x x x the number of killed was small."

In the attack on the London area, bombs fell on the great dockside at Tilbury and on a British airplane in the Isle of Wight.

Bombs fell within a mile of the vast domed St. Paul's Cathedral in east-central London and upon the Thames estuary with its heavy shipping and industrial facilities.

There were casualties—an undisclosed list of dead and injured, and there was damaged residential property.

London's millions twice had to take cover—once at luncheon; again just at tea-time.

(From 9:30 a. m. to 2:19 p. m. central standard time, not a line of information dealing with the London raid was allowed to be transmitted by the censor.)

The air ministry reported that in air attacks all over Britain the Nazis used as many as 150 planes in individual raids and said the day's biggest success was that of a single British hurricane squadron in shooting down 11 Junkers bombers.

The British defended the heart of their homeland with a savage efficiency, their own losses were put at only 12 planes and it was said that the pilots of eight of these were safe.

Fighter planes were not alone in the struggle: The hoarse bellow of "archies"—anti-aircraft guns—filled the skies.

The Nazi struck at London in two big flying columns.

The first was split by the defending British and part of that wave was turned back before reaching the city's outskirts. The remaining bombers, racing above the Thames Estuary, bombed it on both sides—hitting the Tilbury docks and the Northfleet section across the estuary, the site of big cement works 13 miles from London.

Here an undetermined number of dead was left.

Later, fresh Nazi squadrons roared up the estuary, looting bombs in the southwestern suburbs.

(The Germans claimed to have bombed the populous east side of London and the northern and eastern suburbs as well.)

The first casualties found by an Associated Press correspondent in the southwestern area were two dead air raid wardens. One had been struck by a bomb fragment; the other showed not a mark.

The approach of the raiding bombers was stealthy. They came at a high altitude, too high to be seen at first.

The first wave had crossed the southeast coast several hundred strong. Those able to break through and reach the London outskirts appeared to be avoiding the heat of the metropolitan area.

Many Londoners stood on their rooftops in an unsuccessful effort to see the action.

After it was all over, British sources declared it had proved that Britain, with her 400-mile-an-hour fighter planes and her anti-aircraft—still controlled the English skies despite the week long efforts of thousands upon thousands of German planes to win a mastery of the air.

It was the sixth successive day of mass raids over England—raids that every day had grown in ferocity—and by mid-afternoon it already had far outdone yesterday's attack, the biggest in history.

It was, as yesterday, an engagement so big as to be difficult to encompass: At one southeastern town alone, at one time, 400 German raiders were counted as they swept across the coastal frontier. The count was lost there; they came on and on after that.

The British, meanwhile reported that the bombing attacks of their own on military objectives in Italy, Germany and sections of Nazi-occupied France and Holland.

Attacked, said the air ministry, were:

A Fiat airplane engine factory at Turin, Italy; Caproni aircraft works at Milan; a blast furnace near Genoa; oil plants at Gelsenkirchen and Relshoff; munitions plants at Lunen, Essen, Gladbach and Dusseldorf; wharves at Emmerich on the Dutch-German frontier; supply depots at Hamm and Soest and airbases in France, Holland and Germany; the dock basin at Helder in Holland.

Three of the British raiders were acknowledged lost.

NELSON ROCKEFELLER GIVEN APPOINTMENT

Washington, Aug. 16.—(P)—President Roosevelt today appointed Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, son of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to the newly created position of coordinator of commercial and cultural relations among the American republics.

Stephen Early, the president's press secretary, told reporters that Rockefeller would be "another 31-a-year man."

In his new position he will work for the council of national defense.

Early said Rockefeller was resigning as director and officer of enterprises with which he had been associated in South America and that he had obtained a leave of absence from Rockefeller Center, Inc. in order to devote his full time to his new duties.

FULL BROADCAST

New York, Aug. 16.—(P)—Full broadcast is planned by the networks tomorrow of the notification ceremonies and acceptance speech of Wendell L. Willkie, Republican presidential nominee, at Elwood, Ind.

The program, to run an hour beginning at 3 P. M. (CST) on the combined NBC, CBS and MBS channels, will be preceded at 1:15 by the broadcast of an informal reception to Willkie, over WJZ-NBC, CBS and MBS.

MACKENZIE KING AND ROOSEVELT TO MEET TODAY

Hemisphere Defense
May Be Talked At Conference

Aboard Roosevelt train enroute to
Norwood, N.Y., Aug. 16.—(P)—President Roosevelt followed up his announcement that the Canadian and United States governments were discussing "the defense of the American hemisphere" by disclosing tonight that Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King of Canada would dine with him tomorrow night at Ogdensburg, N.Y.

J. Pierpont Moffatt, United States minister to Canada, also will be present.

White House officials made only the bare announcement of those two facts aboard the president's special train as it traveled toward upstate New York to give the chief executive a chance to inspect troops participating in peacetime war games.

Presumably the president and prime minister discuss specific methods of United States-Canadian cooperation of hemisphere defense and possibly the question of American acquisition of naval and air bases on British possessions in the Americas.

It will be the first meeting between the chief executive and Mackenzie King since last spring, when the latter was Mr. Roosevelt's guest at Warm Springs, Ga.

At his press conference earlier today, when he disclosed that conversations were in progress between Canada and the United States, the president said:

"The United States government is holding conversations with the government of the British empire in regard to acquisition of naval and air bases by the United States for American hemisphere defense, with special reference to the Panama Canal."

The prime minister may attend military church service with the president Sunday morning.

Italian Armored
Divisions Drive
Into Somaliland

Advance Their Lines To
Within 35 Miles of Berbera, Capital

Cairo, Egypt, Aug. 16.—(P)—Italian armored divisions drove their three-pronged attack deeper into British Somaliland today, advancing their lines within 35 miles of Berbera, the capital.

Fighting was furious in the mountain passes southeast and southwest of Berbera and along the coastline of the Gulf of Aden south from Xella, which already is in Fascist hands, with Britain's native Somali troops inflicting heavy casualties.

The Italian headquarters reported "nothing important" over other African warfronts.

The British and Italian air forces traded bombs from the Suez to Somaliland amid indications of British forces fighting on the southern shore.

The Italians bombed Alexandria anew overnight in an attempt to smash the British fleet concentrations there, but failed to hit any warships.

Official British announcements detailed air raids on Italian objectives from Libya to the coastal and inland roads of Somaliland, where the Italian mechanized columns are fighting their way toward Berbera.

Although the raids in British Somaliland were stated to have been "successful," British spokesmen said that the military situation there was "rather critical" and that the British, now defending heights around Berbera, may be forced to retire to the town itself.

Says Germans Are In Poland To Stay

Berlin, Aug. 16.—(P)—Hans Frank, German governor-general for occupied Poland, told a Nazi mass meeting today in Krakow that "we are in this land and as Germans we will never again leave it."

"The Swastika will fly over this land forever," Frank said in his speech, which was carried by radio to 30,000 Nazi party members active in Poland.

Referring to a decision that the "government-general"—that part of German-occupied Poland not annexed formally by the Reich—in the future would no longer be treated as an occupied area—that is, foreign territory—but as a part of greater Germany, Frank said the Polish people again as they did 700 years ago are entered into the protectorship of the German nation.

Whether this meant that this part of Poland now is raised to the status of a protectorate similar to Bohemia and Moravia was not made clear.

FICKLE WEATHER

Indianapolis, Aug. 16.—(P)—Indiana's notoriously fickle weather may run through part of its repertoire tomorrow at Elwood during notification ceremonies for Wendell L. Willkie, Republican presidential nominee.

INSPECT LAND

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 16.—(P)—Four members of a special subcommittee of the national advisory committee for aeronautics inspected three tracts of land here today in a tour of suggested sites for $500,000 airplane engine research laboratory.

They said they would inspect other potential sites at the Chicago area tomorrow.

PILOTLESS PLANE KILLS YOUTH AT FOND DU LAC, WIS.

Fond Du Lac, Wis., Aug. 16.—(P)—Donald Lee Wagner, 10, watching a fleet of planes warm up as a state fair air tour prepared to take off for Oshkosh, was crushed to death today when a pilotless ship started down the field, smashed a signboard, and rammed a fence where the boy was standing.

Pilot Felix Gauthier, of Stevens Point, was preparing to step inside the plane when it ran up over the wheel blocks and careened across the field.

The boy was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Berger.

LONDON SUBURBS ARE STRUCK BY GERMAN BOMBS

Both Banks Of Thames
Are Attacked Nazis
Claim

By the Associated Press
Berlin, Aug. 16.—(P)—Authorized German sources proclaimed tonight that wave after wave of bombers had hurled lavish destruction on the London environs late today, hitting both banks of the Thames with fire, bomb craters and the wreckage of industrial plants.

The British fought back with 3,000 or more planes and with every weapon at their command.

Nazi squadrons broke through the British defense zone to the south, the Germans said, and burst into the iron ring of London with great bombs at airports, arsenals, arms factories and industrial plants.

Bomb hits, fires, bomb craters, destroyed houses, planes, tremendous detonations and high columns of fire show the work of the German bombers," declared the official German news agency, DNB, in a proud running description.

"Extensive fighting is in progress. The British are exerting every effort to halt the German attack. One recognizes clearly in the English defense that they know everything is at stake—their very existence."

"Frenziedly the English and Germans hit one another until one plane or the other shoots off to destruction. A trail of smoke is the last badge of a heroism that was."

"Here and there, billowing parachutes and the yellow puffs from anti-aircraft explosions float through the air."

"On earth, the direct hits, the bomb craters and the number of planes shot down appears to be immense."

"German scouts, observing from a great height, are giving reports on developments."

The industrial east end of London was one seeming object of attack, the Germans said.

The squalid Cockney section, a vast beehive of docks, sprawling warehouses, factories and arsenals, lay under a pall of smoke, the raiders reported.

Airmail For Farmers

When delivery of mail by carriers to a few of the farm homes in this county was started nearly a half century ago, it was a matter of widespread wonder. The farmer took his place as equal to the city man in that form of service by his government.

And now another revolutionary step is inaugurated on behalf of the farmers. After months of experimental tests, regular service is begun by air planes of mail delivered and picked up from rural areas in 81 communities in five eastern states.

The flying mail carrier drops his pouches at certain places and picks up mail sacks suspended from 40-foot poles.

Such service, when fully tested, will be extended to middle western farm sections, where the difficulties of flying mail planes are much less than in the east.

The flying postman will soon be a regular character in the rural regions of the country.

A Tribute To Farley

That staid and unemotional government publication, the Congressional Record, suddenly blossomed out the other day in its nearest approach to a special edition, such as newspapers often publish on some important anniversary or other community red letter day.

The Record appeared with 41 pages devoted solely to remarks and clippings from newspapers concerning the retirement of James A. Farley from the head of the national Democratic committee and as postmaster general. Senator Carter Glass, who had placed Farley in nomination for president at the Chicago convention, obtained unanimous consent for insertion in the Record of 176 clippings of comment on Farley and his career.

If Farley delights to read his own praises in print, he might well have reason to take the "pause that refreshes" before he enters upon his duties as superintendent for a certain beverage.

Prisoners of War

Although we think of the European war as something that may affect this western hemisphere some time in the future, we may be surprised to know that the war has already caused much disruption of the normal course of international business between Europe and our hemisphere.

A dispatch from Buenos Aires tells of the large number of merchant steamers now tied up in Argentine ports.

There are 26 such ships, it is said, with a total tonnage of 157,489. Sixteen of these are Italian, four French, four Danish, three German, and one Swedish.

Some of these ships had direct connection with the big drama of the war in that part of the world. The French liner Formose, for instance, was with a convoy of British ships when it was attacked by the German pocket battleship Graf Spee. The result of that famous episode is well known. The British warships fought off and drove to harbor the German battleship, and eventually the Graf Spee was scuttled by her own crew.

Other European ships are anchored at various ports in South America, waiting the outcome of the war to learn their fate. The loss of world trade and loss of employment of the crews of these 26 ships together make an important disruption of the normal transoceanic life.

There are several ships from European ports tied up in the harbors of New York and other North American countries, but the numbers are not great, because most of them fled these waters.

Guarding Back Door

Reported activity of Russian forces on Great Diomed Island, in the middle of Behring Strait, is given as the reason for authorization by the United States Navy Department of the construction of a naval air base on Unalaska Island. Work also is being pushed on other air bases in Alaska which may serve as patrol stations to keep watch on the backdoor to the North American continent.

Unalaska Island is 135 miles off the southwest coast of Alaska in the chain of Aleutian Islands that are strung like a necklace across the sea toward Russia and Japan. The island is a large one, approximately 25 miles long and from 10 to 20 miles wide, with mountains, including a volcano, rising to nearly 6,000 feet. Fog and mist veil the landscape a great part of the time, but the location is of great strategic value between the North Pacific Ocean and Behring Sea and within striking distance of the Siberian coast.

Although the United States owns Little Diomed Island, close to the larger Russian island, conditions on the tiny bit of rock are not favorable to any sort of military or naval establishment, it is indicated, and the few fishermen who find a living there are reported to have a difficult time merely clinging to life.

Ever since the American government purchased Alaska from Russia in 1867, the huge territory has been virtually without defenses. Now that the Soviet government in Moscow seems in an aggressive mood, the action of the Navy Department in preparing for possible trouble at the shortest water crossing between the Old World and the New appears to be none too early.

Letter From New York

By ELEANOR OLINSTEAD MILLER

Gardens are on parade at the Fair. There are big ones and little ones, old fashioned and ultra-modern. I think perhaps the one I appreciated most was the woodland garden which other people passed by and in which one could sit down comfortably and rest after the gayety of a fair which had little of woodland coolness and quiet about it.

There is an English garden and a French garden, a formal garden and a wild flower garden, a garden of today and a garden of tomorrow, a rose garden, a rock garden, a water garden, and many others.

During the spring and even into June many gardens of city and country are open to visitors. Down in Greenwich Village or in garden plots in the sixties and seventies you can see what care and imagination can do in a few square feet of backyard. Or it is possible to go to the great estates on Long Island and Westchester county where you can see the same sort of thing on a larger scale.

There is not so much to see in July and August, but even during these hot days I found a few happy garden places.

Down in the Italian section, under the elevated, where it is dirty and squelchy, there are window boxes, and flower boxes. In one of them a sun flower grew four feet tall, carefully tied to the wall to keep from falling over.

On the suburban railroad stations, ramblers rove climb in a magnificent confusion; I don't think I ever saw so many roses in one place.

Up in the hills of Connecticut I saw a young garden, each slip carefully planted and lovingly tended, and flourishing as all loved things flourish.

Near a very new house in Connecticut is a very new garden, the sod broken for the first time in generations. Near by is a very old garden with flowers which have bloomed for no one knows how long.

Gardens are on parade at the Fair, but in other places I have seen, both in the East and at home, they just grow with no idea of a parade, and I think I like them better that way.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Alvina R. Boase

Mrs. Alvina Ranft Boase was born June 11, 1886 in Holle Germany, and came to the United States when young, making her home on a farm east of Meredosia. Her death occurred recently and the funeral was held at the Schaeffer Funeral Home in Meredosia. Rev. Ogen officiating. Burial was in Hodges cemetery east of Meredosia.

Mrs. Boase was preceded in death by her husband; son Carl; brother, Ed Ranft and sister, Mrs. Kaiser. She is survived by the following children: Otto of Decatur, Henry, whose present address is not known; Mrs. Augusta Mueller, Englewood, Colorado; William Boase, Anchorage, Alaska; Frank Boase, Bluffs; Mrs. Alvina Bongers, Denver, Colorado; Louise Boase, Mitchell, Nebraska; Mrs. Anna Johnson, Jacksonville and Mrs. Eda Hauser, Springfield. There are 20 grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren. One brother resides in Germany.

Music at the funeral was furnished by Mrs. Henry Berger and Mrs. C. O. Mueller, singers with Miss Lottie Middelendorf as accompanist. The flowers were cared for by granddaughters, Doris Mueller, Evelyn Deller, Frances Fanning, Jesse Boase and Cordelia Birdsell.

Casket bearers, nephews of Mrs. Boase, were Albert Weiss, Albert Litzig, Carl Litzig, Ed Ranft, Walter Ranft, John Magel and Henry Alhorn.

JACKSONVILLE WOMEN MAKE TRIP TO OPERA

Members of the Jacksonville Business and Professional Women's club attended the Municipal opera in St. Louis Thursday evening. Twenty-five went in the chartered bus and enjoyed the production of "Rosalia." The group stopped at Godfrey for dinner. This event takes the place of the regular meeting and has become an annual occasion in the club.

OUTSTANDING

Universal decided it wanted, at this time, a picture running the scale of entertainment elements from comedy to tragedy, from action to romance to suspense. So Harold Shumate was put to work on an original screenplay telling of the Dalton gang, which terrorized Kansas and surrounding territory during the middle of the last century, and George Marshall, who directed the studio's "Destry Rides Again," was assigned to guide the new film.

The result is "When The Daltons Rode," and it now can be reported that at last week's preview in Hollywood opinion was unanimous that all that the studio hoped for was delivered. There is more action and tragedy compressed into the picture's 81 minutes than has been seen on the screen in one picture for years. It tells of a family of four sons torn from their mother by a series of incidents which places them outside of the law. It tells also of romance and a gang of criminals, hardened by a world turned against them, plundering trains, banks and stage-coaches. It tells of their annihilation at what was to be their last "job." And it uses vigor, straightforwardness and brutality to depict the story of the Dalton's some of whose adventures were admittedly fictionalized. Paralleling the underlying story of romance is the comedy, both of which temper the force of the action.

Brian Donlevy, Broderick Crawford, Stuart Erwin and Frank Albertson portray the Dalton boys. Randolph Scott plays the attorney who attempts to aid them in their court fights, and who falls in love with one of the youths' sweethearts, played by Kay Francis. Andy Devine is seen as the hired hand who joins the gang and is used chiefly for comic effect.

Others in the cast include George Bancroft, Mary Gordon and Harvey Stephens. Shumate used as his script basis the book written by Emmett Dalton, sole survivor of the gang's "last stand," and Jack Jungmeyer, Sr.

Previewed at the Pantages theatre, Hollywood. The audience was enthralled completely, and sat on the edge of its collective seat throughout. It applauded long and loudly at the finish, and during the unreeling, especially for some of the outstanding stunt work—V. K.

Local People Back Jerseyville Works From Colorado Tour On Disposal Plant

Misses Hilda and Maurine Rodhouse and Eugene Young of this city and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brannen of Virginia have returned from a week's tour of Colorado. Leaving at 1 o'clock in the morning they drove 850 miles the first day out of Jacksonville, stopping for the night at Fort Morgan in Morgan county, Col.

They went next to Estes Park, where they took several side trips, visiting Big Thompson and St. Vrain canyons and Bear Lake. They traveled to Denver via the Mountain Ridge road through Grand Lake, passing the grave of Buffalo Bill on route.

From Denver they went to Colorado Springs, where they visited the familiar scenic spots, Garden of the Gods, the Cave of the Winds and the Will Rogers memorial shrine on South Cheyenne mountain. On Pike's Peak they encountered a terrific snowstorm.

While at Colorado Springs the tourists visited Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Young and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brannen. The relatives entertained them with a steak fry on Austin Cliff.

Miss Butterfield And Paul Rodman United in Chicago

Jacksonville Young Women's Wedding Takes Place At Home of Minister

The marriage of Miss Betty Butterfield, daughter of Mrs. Floyd R. Butterfield of Jacksonville, to Paul Theodore Rodman of Chicago, took place Monday evening, August 5, in the home of the minister of the Edgewater Presbyterian church, Chicago. The ministers home is above the church and the beautiful living room made an ideal setting for the ceremony. The room was artistically decorated with large bouquets of beautiful flowers by the fireplace, with 24 lighted, tall white candles. The ceremony was read at twilight.

The bride wore a floor-length white silk jersey dress, wide gold belt, gold mesh cap with ruffle of gold around her curls, gold slippers. Two large lavender orchids on her shoulder. The groom's sister-in-law, matron of honor, wore a floor-length pale blue chiffon dress and white gardenias on her shoulder.

The bride's mother looked lovely in white street-length silk jersey dress. The groom's mother, Mrs. E. M. Rodman, wore a flowered print crepe. Mrs. York of Jacksonville, a friend of the bride's mother and family, wore black chiffon. Mrs. Carrie B. Spangenberg wore a flowered chiffon. All had gardenias corsage bouquets.

Marcus H. Rodman, brother of the groom, acted as best man. The bride and groom were then taken to the Marine dining room of the Edgewater Beach hotel for dinner. The bride's colors of white and gold were carried out in the table decorations, men's place cards, with a centerpiece of glass and tiny pink asters, lighted candles, tall crystal goblets and favors in gold and white.

During the dinner hour the orchestra played "Here Comes the Bride," several times and the bride and groom had to take a bow under the spot lights. A strident quartette also played at their table. Mr. and Mrs. Rodman will make their home in Chicago.

Democratic Day At State Fair To Be Held Next Thursday

Hershey, Slattery and Kelly Among Speakers; Plan Morning Reception

Final plans for observance of Democratic day at the state fair next Thursday as an "all Illinois day" were completed Thursday at a luncheon meeting of party leaders in the Lealand hotel in Springfield.

Charles E. Bliss of Taylorville, law partner of Harry B. Hershey, gubernatorial nominee, and Arthur Sullivan, Chicago, chairman of the Democratic state central committee, were co-chairmen and speakers at the session.

In addition to a number of state candidates, directors of all state departments were present.

Plans for the state fair celebration include a reception at the executive mansion starting at 10 a. m. with directors and candidates as hosts. A parade will start for the exposition grounds at 11:30 a. m. and the grandstand program, which has been limited to an hour, is slated to get underway at 12:30 p. m.

Officials said the program will be arranged on the central standard time schedule. Speakers at the grandstand ceremony will include Hershey, U. S. Senator James M. Slattery, Mayor Edward J. Kelly, of Chicago, and other candidates. All talks, officials said, will be brief. It was also reported a speaker of national prominence may be secured for the event.

Public Schools To Open on Tuesday Morning, Sept. 3rd

Administrative Offices Are Opened This Week; Set Meeting of Teachers

Public schools of the city will open Tuesday morning, Sept. 3. Supt. E. O. Stoops opened the school administration office Thursday and has announced that everything is in readiness for the start of the term. Dr. and Mrs. Stoops and daughter, Isabel, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Stoops of Canton, and Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Poor and children of Wilmington, Del., spent a month at the Bammelkamp cottage at Old Mission, Mich.

The school plant and equipment, Dr. Stoops said, have been reconditioned this summer, the entire janitorial force remaining on the job throughout the vacation months. All buildings were thoroughly cleaned and floors waxed. Needed repairs were made. Furniture was cleaned and re-waxed.

There have been no major repairs or improvements during the summer. However, the Board of Education is considering the construction of a new roof on the high school, which must be done in cooler weather. If the work is done, a built-up roof with a guarantee of 20 years is contemplated.

The first meeting of teachers for the year will be held at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, Sept. 2, Labor Day. This is in line with the usual custom. Dr. Stoops stated that no resignations of teachers have occurred during the summer, and that, as far as he knew at present, the entire teaching force will be on the job when school opens.

Miss Helen Harney has opened the high school office. The office will be ready to receive registrations next Monday, and will be open from 8 to 12 a. m. and from 1 to 4 p. m. Most of the town students are already registered, but students from the county, especially freshmen, will have an opportunity to register before the opening of school.

Mrs. Sarah Muntz Observes Birthday

Children Give Surprise Party for White Hall Woman; Other News

White Hall—Mrs. Sarah Muntz was very happily surprised Saturday evening when all of her seven children and their families gathered at her home to help her celebrate her birthday. So completely was she surprised that she did not even have an inkling that anything unusual was going on until the whole company of 20 people entered her door singing "Happy Birthday." They brought along many lovely gifts and refreshments for the group.

Those present included Norman Muntz, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Muntz, of Peoria, Mrs. and Mrs. Roy Muntz and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Muntz of White Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Muntz and son of Berdan, Mr. and Mrs. James Doolin of Jacksonville, and Miss Lela Muntz who resides with her mother. Also grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lynn Muntz and baby and Mrs. Russell Kitchner of Jerseyville, who completed the four generations of the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith quietly celebrated their birthday this week by having their pictures taken. Mrs. Smith was 71 years old on August 12 and Mr. Smith was 61 on August 14. Last Sunday they and their daughters, Miss Emily Smith and Mrs. Virgil Bowen attended a family reunion, the Eyre and Guthrie gathering held at Peoria. Mr. Smith's half brother, Marcus Funkhouser and daughter, Mildred of Champaign, came over Friday and remained until Monday to attend the reunion with them.

White Hall Personal—Miss Irene Price of Peoria arrived Monday night to spend a two weeks vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Price and her sister, Mrs. Carl Savage of Alsip is also spending this week in the Price home west of the city.

Mrs. Edward Pennell is visiting with friends in Chicago this week. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Marmon and little son of Peoria were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Irwin from Saturday until Monday.

Misses Dorothy Laris and Geneva Phillips of Carrollton were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Veri Owens Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mrs. Clinton Aydelotte and two younger daughters, of St. Louis visited with her brother Paul Pratt and family on Hancock street from Friday until Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Aydelotte was the former Miss Jennie Pratt of this city.

ESCAPED PRISONER SHOT, CAPTURED

Chicago, Aug. 16.—(P)—William A. Hanks, 18, who escaped from the Fort Sheridan guardhouse where he had been confined pending court martial for desertion, was shot and captured by policemen after a chase late last night over a north side street.

Hanks fled when he was about to be seized by Corp. Alton Ivey of the Fort Sheridan military police and three city policemen. One of the latter, Roy Couture, fired two shots in the air and when Hanks refused to halt he was felled by a bullet which grazed his head.

Army officers said Hanks, whose home is in Chicago, deserted from the Second Infantry April 17 at Fort Brady, Mich. Taken to Fort Sheridan for court martial, he escaped May 12 after slugging a guard with a pickaxe.

Consider Getting Bases for Defense Of American Zones

President Admits Some Action Is Being Taken To Protect Panama

Washington, Aug. 16.—(P)—President Roosevelt announced today that the United States is "holding conversations" with Great Britain on acquisition of naval and air bases in the United States "with special reference to the Panama Canal."

The chief executive made the announcement at his press conference but cautioned reporters repeatedly not to tie it up with any speculation about the release of American destroyers to Great Britain.

Virtually, Mr. Roosevelt authorized the following direct quotation on the negotiation for bases:

"The United States government is holding conversations with the government of the British empire with regard to the acquisition of naval and air bases by the United States with special reference to the Panama Canal."

Talks With Canada—The president then said that he had another item of news on which he also would make a direct, quotable statement, which was:

"The United States government is carrying on conversations with the Canadian government looking toward defense of the American hemisphere."

Mr. Roosevelt did not go into details on either of his announcements. Reporters asked question after question designed to bring out whether there was any connection between the naval and air base negotiations and Great Britain's often repeated request for permission to buy over-age American destroyers.

To every question Mr. Roosevelt said the newsman should refrain from any speculation and stick to the news facts.

Seek Air Student Training Program For Jacksonville

Government Would Pay Cost For Class of Fifty At Local Flying Field

E. E. Bowman of Chicago, inspector for the Civil Aeronautics Authority, was in the city Tuesday in conference with Chamber of Commerce officials relative to establishment of a student training unit at the Jacksonville air field. Under the plan proposed, the cost of training would be paid by the government, rather than by the individual students, and a class of 50 would be enrolled.

The course would include ground training, and students who ranked highest would be selected for training in flight. The program has already been adopted by several Illinois cities, among them Springfield, Peoria, and Quincy. The program must have a sponsor, preferably a college or the Chamber of Commerce.

The new enlarged training plan would augment the private flying school now being conducted at the air field, in which sixteen students are already enrolled. Four of those attending the school have made their first solo flights within the past ten days. They are P. Byron Smith of Woodson, Harold Naylor, Jerry Prosser, and Jack Phillips.

At 2:45 o'clock Saturday morning the 45 planes engaged in the annual State Fair efficiency tour will fly across a line drawn through the Jacksonville flying field, to be officially checked on that portion of their flight extending from Quincy to Springfield. The planes will stop for Friday night at Quincy. They will not land here.

Officials of the state aeronautics commission will be on hand at the local port to check the competing planes, among them the commission secretary, George C. Roberts. The public is invited to visit the field and watch the flight of the touring planes over this community.

Guests Visit Old Home Near Concord

M. O. Smith Host to Group Of Former Residents At Homestead

Concord—M. O. Smith entertained Wednesday at his country home, east of town, the following guests: Mrs. Myrtle Gaul, Mrs. Ida Slattery, Mrs. Rose Whipple and children, Donna Mae and Larry Joe, of California; Mrs. Mary Ruyie and son, John, of Champaign; Mrs. Dollie Wackar, H. E. Ogle and Mrs. O. M. Petefish, of Jacksonville and Mrs. Marie A. Smith, of Concord.

The morning was given to roving over hills and valleys, drinking from the old spring, visiting old familiar spots dear to the hearts of members of the group who had spent many happy childhood days on this farm.

At noon the group heard the clang of the old dinner bell which has been in the Smith family for the past three generations. Tired and hungry but happy they made their way to the house where they found a fried chicken dinner in picnic style on the lawn, prepared by Mr. and Mrs. John Franklin, tenants on the farm, and previously arranged by Mr. Smith.

During the afternoon they drove past the school house and some of their birth places, and childhood homes. For lack of time they had to pass up making calls on old friends: the Rooneys and others whom they had hoped to see, but when they came to Grace Chapel where some of them had accepted Christ and had worshiped Him there, it wasn't enough to see the church and pass by but all fifteen went in and held a little song service. Mrs. Mary Gaul Ruyie of Champaign being the pianist.

The tour being finished they once more returned to the Smith homestead, where ice cream and watermelon were served.

Increased membership is urged and attendance at district and state conferences is to be promoted under the new National Defense program in which all units are asked to cooperate.

Program chairmen in the district are asked to avail themselves of the material offered at the Illinois Congress Headquarters, 6 North Michigan avenue, Chicago.

Fieldon Couple To Mark Wedding Date

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Weeks To Observe 57th Marriage Anniversary Sunday

Jerseyville.—A family gathering in celebration of the 57th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Weeks of the Fieldon vicinity will be held Sunday, Aug. 18.

The couple will officially observe the anniversary on Friday, Aug. 16, as they were married on that date in 1883 in Jerseyville. Judge Eads performed the marriage ceremony and the couple had no attendants. Before her marriage, Mrs. Weeks was Miss Virginia Wade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wade. Weeks' parents were Mr. and Mrs. William Weeks of the Fieldon locality.

Following their wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Weeks went to Logan county in this state where they remained for a number of years. Finally they sold their property in Logan county and moved back to Jersey county where they have since resided. During the past 54 years they have lived on the old homestead of Mrs. Weeks' parents. The original house on the Wade place was destroyed during the last year of the World war, in 1918. The house caught fire at mid day late in December and the building with its contents were almost totally destroyed. The present dwelling was erected 22 years ago.

Weeks is 75 years of age and Mrs. Weeks is 73. The couple reside by themselves on the farm and their physical condition is such that they are able to attend to all the duties of their small farm.

The couple have three daughters, Mrs. Paul Breitweiser of Jerseyville, Mrs. C. A. Breiden of University City, Mo., and Mrs. J. H. Mourning of East Alton. One son, William Weeks, died in infancy. They also have two grandchildren, Gloria and David Mourning. Weeks has one sister, Mrs. Rose Cooper of Fieldon, and a half brother, Anton Brown of Hartford, living.

Republican Women Organize Club At White Hall Meeting

Mrs. Jack Neal is President And Mrs. Lyndel Rose Is Secretary-Treasurer

White Hall—Republican women of White Hall vicinity met Wednesday night in the Griswold annex to organize a Republican women's club. Miss Julia Pierson of Carrollton, county chairman, was present and assisted with the organization. Mrs. Jack Neal was named president and Mrs. Lyndel Rose was made secretary and treasurer. Miss Nina White is chairman of the executive committee.

Married at Carlinville—Miss Dorothy Louise Woodward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lee Woodward of Roodhouse but until recently of White Hall, and Richard Claude Whorton, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Whorton of Carrollton, were united in marriage at 9 o'clock Wednesday night in the First Baptist parsonage in Carlinville by Rev. Frank M. Crouch. Their attendants were Louise Hansen of White Hall and Elmer Tucker of Wrights. Miss Rosemary Kirbach of Carrollton and James Carmody of Woodriver were also guests at the wedding.

The bride graduated from the White Hall High school with the class of 1935 and for the past two years has been secretary to the superintendent of the White Hall schools. Mr. Whorton attended school at Wrights and Greenfield and for the past seven years has operated a trucking business of his own. They left for a trip in the Ozarks and after Aug. 18 will be at home in a house already prepared in Wrights.

Plan Extended Trip—Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Corder expect to leave Monday for a two weeks visit with their three sons and their families. They will first go to Des Moines, Iowa, where they will visit with Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Corder and daughter, and from there to Minneapolis, Minn., to visit Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Corder, and fly to Fargo, N. D., to visit Mr. and Mrs. Paul Corder and children. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Rose will accompany them in the auto to Minneapolis and then will go by train to Fargo to also visit in the Paul Corder home. Mrs. Paul Corder was formerly Miss Esther Rose of this city.

News Notes—Miss Georgia Johnston and Miss Romina Vestel returned home Thursday evening from a seven day trip which took them to West McHenry, Ill., where they visited with Miss Bella Backus and Miss Bessie Petty who then accompanied them on a trip to Lake Geneva and The Dells in Wisconsin, and at Stoddard, Wis. They were guests of Miss Nelle LaForce and her brother Carl, former residents of White Hall. They traveled 1265 miles.

COAL MINE PRICE POSTPONEMENT SEEN

Washington, Aug. 16.—(P)—Belief was widespread among coal producers today that the effective date for minimum prices on sale of soft coal at the mines would be postponed.

Observers, recalling that the coal division already has extended until August 30 the date for filing appeals with Secretary Ickes from prices fixed by the division, explained that this would leave only three days for action on last-minute appeals before September 3, the date originally fixed for prices to become effective.

Cheese parings and candle ends...

Those who saved them used to be sneered at as stingy. But why? Even cheese parings and candle ends have their uses. And hasn't it always been smart to be thrifty?

Yes. And that's why you ought to read the advertisements. A little money saved here and there can make a whale of a difference by the end of the year!

So whether you want a dress, or a bathing suit, or anything at all, don't run out and snap up the first thing you see. Take your time, and save money. Read the advertisements in this newspaper. It's just like having a dozen bargain counters lined up beside your armchair!

Nichols Park Water Carnival Last Night Thrills Large Crowd

A crowd of over a thousand thrilled to the annual Nichols Park water carnival at the park pool last night. The event was under the sponsorship of the local division of the W. P. A. Twenty-seven girls and 73 boys participated in the different events of the evening. The event most enthusiastically received was the candle racing, with a division for both girls and boys. The only illumination at the pool during these events were twenty candles, arranged at the edges. The object of the race—splashing out three candles at the end of each lap—eventually produced total darkness.

The outstanding performers were Eddie Cline, Richard Allen and Carol Coultas, all of this city. An additional feature of the program was a life saving demonstration, including a demonstration of various swimming strokes.

Judges for the events were Francis H. Allen, who with John Agger, pool manager, served as co-chairmen of the event; Robert Michael and Robert Davis. All prizes awarded were furnished by Hamilton's Confectionery. The results of the various events follow:

Girls' Free Style Race for girls 14 years and under—first, Polly Thompson; second, Agnes Johnson; third, Phyllis Stone.

Boys' Free Style Race, for boys 15 years and under—first, Jordan Casey; second, Jim Millon; third, Francis Thurman.

Three-year Relay—first, Carol Coultas, Richard Allen, Eddie Cline; second, Betty Hamilton; third, Polly Thompson.

Boys' Free Style Race, for boys over 15 years—first, Richard Allen; second, Eddie Cline; third, Dick Brown.

Boys' Candle Race—first, Francis Thurman; second, Travis Hemlick; third, Ellsworth Barton.

Girls' Candle Race—first, Pauline Lipmire; second, Mary Madocai; third, Dorothy Gilbert.

Two-year Relay—first, Richard Allen and Carol Coultas; second, Eddie Cline and Agnes Johnson; third, Betty Hamilton and Richard Fry.

Blind Fold Race—first, Richard Allen; second, Dick Robinson; third, Eddie Cline.

Balloon Blowing Race—first, Junior Johnson; second, Francis Thurman; third, Martha Lee Mayer.

Dividing Contest—first, Eddie Cline; second, Carol Coultas; third, Phyllis Stone.

Indians, Feller Beat Browns, 8-3

Cleveland, Aug. 16.—(P)—The St. Louis Browns pounded Bob Feller for six hits and two runs in the first two innings today, but the Cleveland ace then settled down and wound up posting his 21st victory of the year. The 8 to 3 triumph enabled the Indians to widen their first-place lead over Detroit to three games.

Feller allowed 12 hits and fanned three batters, running his season strikeout total to 900.

The Redskins blasted the offerings of Eldon Auker and Bill Trotter for 13 hits, including triples by Roy Weatherly and Ben Chapman.

Wip Radcliff, the league's leading batter, led the attack against Feller with four singles.

White Sox Win
Detroit, Aug. 16.—(P)—The Chicago White Sox, scoring nine runs in the 8th inning and belting three pitchers for 14 hits beat the Detroit Tigers 18 to 4 in the opener of a three-game series today.

John Duncan Rigney held Detroit to five hits and one unearned run in the first eight innings. In the ninth the Tigers added three runs with doubles by Barney McCosky and Dutch Meyer, and Rudy York's homer. McCosky got four safeties in four times at bat.

Tommy Bridges, who was charged with the defeat, received ragged support from his teammates.

Red Sox Win
Boston, Aug. 16.—(P)—Jimmy Fox took personal charge of a 7-6 Boston Red Sox victory over the Washington Senators today, breaking a 6-6 deadlock in the 10th inning with his 31st home run of the campaign.

It was the second circuit wallop of the day for the slugging catcher. Bobby Doerr chipped in with his 14th homer and Gerald Walker and Bill Bloodworth hit for the circuit for the Senators.

Fox gave the Sox the jump in the first when he drove one far out of the park after Doc Cramer singled. The Sox loaded the sacks in the third but only got one run out of it. Bobby Doerr accounted for two more when he homered after Joe Cronin walked in the third.

Helen Jacobs, the gamster whose cup of glory never was filled quite to the brim, whose hour of greatest triumph—her 1933 victory over Helen Willis—was overcast by circumstances beyond her control.

The rivalry between Helen Jacobs and Helen Willis is an epic in sports history. An even dozen times they sported a span of 14 years. Eleven times it was Miss Jacobs who, hiding bitter disappointment behind inscrutable expression, strode to the net to offer congratulations.

The twelfth time fate robbed her of the chance of receiving them. In the 1933 national singles final Helen Willis, then Mrs. Moody, walked off the court in the third and deciding set to lose by default.

Mrs. Moody was suffering from a back injury, and with characteristic sportsmanship Miss Jacobs offered no criticism; said her opponent had acted wisely.

Four of the defeats at the hands of Miss Willis came in finals at Wimbledon. Thrice Miss Jacobs bowed to her California rival in national singles finals, and once in the semifinals.

Through these years of playing second fiddle, Miss Jacobs picked up her share of championships in minor tournaments, and when her nemesis was not entered, in major events. Four times she won the national championship.

But always the victories were tainted by the knowledge that she had not met her rival. When Mrs. Moody withdrew from competition after her defeat in 1933 Miss Jacobs had a field day, winning the national title again in 1934 and 1935. But Mrs. Moody returned to competition in 1935, competing at Wimbledon, and again Miss Jacobs was standing in the shadow.

In that 1935 Wimbledon final Miss Jacobs had the long-coveted victory in the palm of her hand. Leading 5-2 in the final set, she saw her advantage fade as if fate were again making her victim of a cruel practical joke. Mrs. Moody won the final set 7-5.

Mrs. Moody is no longer in competition, but a younger crop of stars has come to the front, with Alice Marble, a girl Miss Jacobs used to defeat decisively, now queen of all she surveys.

LYN LARY RELEASED

St. Louis, Aug. 16.—(P)—Infielder Lyn Lary was given his unconditional release by the Browns today, apparently ending a major league career which began in 1929 when the New York Yankees purchased him from Oakland of the Pacific Coast League.

Cincinnati Reds Beat Cubs Twice

Chicago, Aug. 16.—(P)—The high-flying Cincinnati Reds snapped out of their long hitting slump today, bashing out 10 hits off four pitchers for a double victory over the Chicago Cubs, 9 to 4 and 6 to 3.

The Reds, whose first place margin had slipped from nine to five games in recent weeks, collected 13 hits in each game as they handed the Cubs their seventh loss in their last nine games. Cincinnati tagged big Bill Lee with his 14th mound defeat of the season in the second game, Relief Pitcher Johnny Hutchings getting credit for his first big league decision.

Junior Thompson started the nightcap but yielded five hits and three runs in three and a third innings. Hutchings held the Cubs scoreless the remainder of the way and never was in serious trouble.

The Reds pushed across the winning run of the second game in the seventh on Bill Werber's single, a sacrifice and Linus Frey's single. They added two more in the ninth on two hits sandwiched around a sacrifice air out field fly.

Whitten Moore was ahead of the Cubs all the way in the first game, and shutting them out until the eighth inning when Hank Leiber connected for a two-run homer, his 14th of the season. The Cubs added two more in the ninth, but Moore easily retired the side before the threat became serious.

The Reds scored in the opening inning after Verne Olsen, Cub southpaw, had struck out the first two batters. Frey singled, Frank McCormick walked and Ernie Lombardi sent Frey home with a single.

The Reds added two more in the third when Morris Arnovich doubled after Frank McCormick and Lombardi had singled. At this point Olsen was replaced by Vance Page, who held the Reds in check until the Reds led the game with a five-run spurge in the eighth.

Cards, Bucs Split
St. Louis, Aug. 16.—(P)—Defeated in a squeeze finish in the first game of a doubleheader today by the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6 to 5, the St. Louis Cardinals roared back to take the nightcap, 9 to 5, in a slam-bang battle which saw each team collect 11 hits.

The Cardinals' performance was good enough to take over fifth place from the Chicago Cubs who lost a doubleheader to Cincinnati.

In the second game, inability of four Pittsburgh hurlers to locate the plate brought about their downfall. The Cards drew nine passes and seven figured directly in the scoring.

Two important triples by Enos Slaughter, another by Joe Orenego and a double by Johnny Mize paced the Cards' second game attack. Deb Garmes led the Pirates with a four-baser and two singles.

New York, Aug. 16.—(P)—The Giants came from behind tonight, with three runs in the seventh and eighth innings to whip the Phillies 5 to 3 in the final game of the season at the Polo Grounds. Hal Schumacher pitched an eight-hitter for the Giants and Ham Schulte hit a homer for the Phils.

The victory gave the Giants a record of five wins and two setbacks in their last three games.

Schumacher, chalking up his 10th victory of the season, bested Hugh Mulcahy.

Donkey Softball Game August 28

Scenes like this will be frequent when the Jacksonville Y.M.C.A. sponsors a donkey softball contest on the evening of Wednesday, August 28, at the Lake Maualster diamond. Two teams of well known local players will be mounted on donkeys. When a batter gets a hit, he will jump on his donkey and take out for first base—if the donkey wants to go. An evening of comedy is expected when the players and donkeys get into action.

Bees Beat Dodgers
Brooklyn, Aug. 16.—(P)—Buddy Hassett's 12th inning single scoring Eddie Miller gave the Boston Bees a 2-1 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

At the Ford offices here it was said that arrangements for the contract had been conducted with William S. Knudsen, of the National Defense Council.

Construction of the 4,000 motors, it was added, would not interfere with Henry Ford's plans to produce an aviation engine of his own, upon which several weeks of preliminary work already had been disposed of. T. Y. Ford aviation engine is to be liquid-cooled.

The defeat dropped the Dodgers to six and a half games behind the league-leading Cincinnati Reds who defeated Chicago twice today.

The portly Freddie, who was honored with gifts that included an automobile, a shot-gun, and two pipes, after sixteen years in the majors, couldn't spur his mates through tonight's game—the 14th victory for the Bees in their last 19 outings.

Nick Steinbreich, limiting the Brooks to five hits, gained his third victory of the season. The Brooks lost their lone tally off him in the fourth when Ducky Medwick singled, went to second on an error and came home on Johnny Hudson's single to center.

Bimelich Will Race In Travers

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 16.—(P)—A trio of historic old stakes—Bimelich makes his latest run for the three year old crown in one of them—will bring Saratoga's racing season to its mid-summer peak tomorrow.

Down for decision on the eight-race program which is all probability will attract upwards of 20,000 are the 71st running of the Travers, oldest stake race in America, the 49th running of the Spinnaway and the North American Steeplechase handicap.

Bimelich, star of Col. E. R. Bradley's string, is going after the estimated $20,000 Travers purse. He must share top-billing, however, with a pair of unbeaten two-year-old fillies, Level Best and Nascia, which clash in the Spinnaway.

Top-weighted at 128 and with Don Meade in the saddle instead of the usual F. A. Smith, Bimelich is the logical Travers choice despite early season defeats in the Kentucky Derby and other rich stakes. The race, moreover, has drawn eight other crack three-year-olds.

The Bradley racer's most important competition should come from Mrs. George D. Widener's Your Chance with 122 pounds and the capable Harry Richards aboard. The Wheatley stable-Belair Stud's trio of Penelope, Snow Ridge and Asp, the Man-hasset stable's call to colors and John Hay Whitney's Grampa, also are well-liked. Penelope carries 122 pounds, the rest 112.

Crispin O'Leary's unbeaten Level Best, winner here over some good juvenile colts, is a slight favorite to upset undefeated Nascia in the $10,000 Spinnaway at six furlongs. The latter owned by Breckenridge Long, has a three pound pull in the weights at 116.

Other possibilities in the two-year-old classic are Mrs. Payne Whitney's Tangled and Hal Price Headley's Pelisse while the Cross Country handicap at two miles has Roter, Cottimore and L'Odene as favorites in a field of six jumpers.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—(P)—Surpassing the previous all-year high by 10 cents, top hogs today reached $7.10 the highest level since the end of last October, on 10 to 20 cents advance with some instances even more. Grain fed cattle were steady with the week's advance while grassy offerings showed some weakness. All classes of sheep were steady to strong.

Today's advance of more than 20 cents on weights of 190 to 240 lbs. lifted the top of $1.90 above the all-year low reached June 20 and fully 55 cents above the top of a year ago. Heavier butchers moved only steady to 10 cents higher and sows were mostly steady. Moderate receipts totaled 9,000 with 2,500 direct to packers. Shippers took 1,500 and 500 were held over.

The price range between grass and grain fed steers has been steadily widening. Grassers were quoted at $11.70, 795 pound yearling steers at $11.65 and best heifers at $10.85. The run held nothing strictly choice and very few fed or grassy heifers, but rather a sizeable amount of grass fat cows, canners and cutters. Cows were weak to 25 cents lower, bulls weak to 15 cents lower, and vealers steady at $12 down.

Bulk good and choice sorted native springers sold at $9 to $9.10.

New York Stock Market

New York, Aug. 16.—(P)—War doubts darkened the stock market picture today and leading industrial slipped fractions to two points. There were a few wider declines.

Slightly easier trends appeared at the start but volume was so insignificant that little importance was attached to recessions.

A mild selling wave hit the list before mid-day and prices dipped to around bottom marks. The pace then slowed to a crawl and modest recoveries were in evidence here and there at the close. Transfers approximated 325,000 shares.

Bulletins telling of thousands of Nazi bombing planes sweeping over England, with even London itself threatened, tended to chill Wall Street's speculative ardor, although the strong fighting resistance of the British in the past five days of air battles kept alive the spark of hope that the latest onslaught would be overcome.

On the side of bullish contingents was the better-than-ordinary run of business developments at home. All this, though, provided only a small cushion for nervous selling. At the same time, lightness of offerings served to support opinions that the worst that can happen abroad may have been discounted to some extent marketwide.

Utilities, rails, oils and rubbers were relatively narrow throughout. Bonds retreated along with commodities. Wheat at Chicago broke 5 cents a bushel but retrieved a portion of this at the finish. This cereal closed down 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 cents a bushel. Corn was off 1/2 to 1 1/2 cents. In late trades, was 10 to 30 cents a bale lower.

The London stock exchange was reported to have shut down for an interval during the sounding of air raid signals, but eventually reopened and prices ended fairly steady.

LESS EXERCISE,
MORE FEED FOR McGUIRE'S COWS

Sparta, Ill.—"If it was worth $1 an acre as an exercise lot three years ago, it's now worth at least $5 an acre as a feed lot."

Joe Mathews, who operates the J. D. McGuire dairy farm near here, recently had this to say about the results of liming and reseeding a worn-out pasture as part of an erosion control program demonstrated by the University of Illinois College of Agriculture and the U. S. Conservation Service.

The pasture—known as "Spring Lake" field because of a small artificial lake and stock pond located in it—was virtually worthless in the spring of 1938 after 30 years of almost continuous grazing. Desirable grasses had disappeared and sorrel, plantain and weed grasses had taken their place.

Today, Mathews points out, the Spring Lake pasture is a "waving mass of sweet clover, timothy, and red top which defies the ravaging march of erosion." Slopes formerly vulnerable to erosion are now completely protected by a green armor of vegetation.

Planted to corn in the spring of 1938 to kill weeds, the east half of the field was limed at the rate of four tons to the acre on the corn, and winter barley was drilled on the middle field between the rows in mid-September to provide partial protection against erosion losses.

The west half of the field was limed in early January, 1939, and by March 1 the entire area had been seeded broadcast with five pounds an acre each of timothy, redtop, lespedeza and sweet clover.

Pasture improvement, growing of legumes and grasses and spreading of limestone are three of five practices being emphasized during 1940 to enable Illinois farmers to get more conservation of soil, water and human resources. The other practices are contour farming and tree planting. Cooperating in the program are the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, the U. S. Soil Conservation Service and other agencies and services of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Britain's Queen Sees for Herself

In Britain, as in America, machine-tool production is a vital link in defense industry. So it was with great interest that Queen Elizabeth looked through an eyepiece, as pictured above, at the operation of a high-speed lathe during a recent visit to a tool and gauge factory.

STORIES IN STAMPS

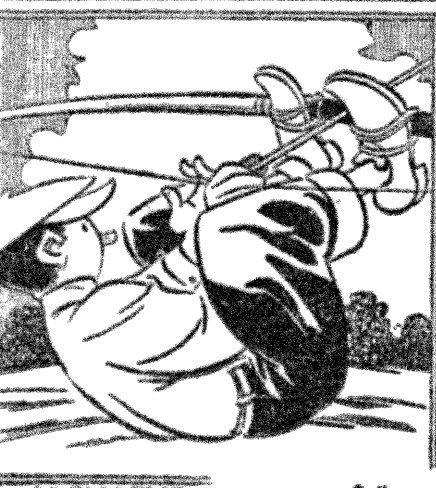

Harding's Death Marked By Special U. S. Issue

THE death of President Warren G. Harding at San Francisco on Aug. 2, 1923, was marked by the 2-cent U. S. memorial issue above, released at Marion, O., and Washington, D. C., Sept. 1, 1923. The stamp was printed in black, bore the dates of President Harding's birth and death. The issue was discontinued Feb. 24, 1924. The design was from the President's favorite profile photograph. Warren G. Harding was an Ohio editor, had served in the state Senate, was lieutenant-governor for one term, and was elected by the U. S. Senate in 1915. He was a "dark horse" candidate in the Republican convention of 1920, won the nomination when leading candidates Gen. Leonard Wood and Frank Lowden were unable to gain a majority. His "front porch" campaign, and a promise to lead the nation "back to normalcy" helped defeat another Ohioan, James M. Cox, in the election.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

SERIAL STORY

MURDER INCOGNITO

NORMAN KAHL

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY, Hazel Leighton explained how she found the body, it surprised when O'Leary told her of the $5000 check made out to her. She explained that Sawyer had said that the man who had made this offer, investigation indicated that the murderer was inside the house.

CHAPTER V

HAZEL LEIGHTON looked incredulously, first at Sergeant Carroll and then at Lieutenant O'Leary. "But that's impossible," she said. "How could anyone in this house have committed the murder? We were all in the drawing room. No one left until I got up and found the body."

O'Leary sighed the deep sigh of a police officer who has a job on his hands. "Sure, it's impossible. All clever murders are impossible. That's what the murderer wants us to think. That's why they're clever—until they're caught."

Hazel glared at the lieutenant disdainfully. And then suddenly her eyes grew larger and her eyebrows arched convulsively. "Do you mean that we're—that I'm a suspect?"

"Everyone's a suspect until we find the right party," said O'Leary.

"That's ridiculous," Hazel snapped. She got to her feet. "All of us had plenty of reason to want to see Martin out of the way, and some of us would probably have murdered him if it had occurred to us or if we had been given the chance. But we weren't. She said laughingly, 'I'll leave you bloodhounds until you've figured out the answer on your little ouija board.'"

The two officers watched her as she walked out of the study. Then Carroll shook his head sadly and sauntered over to the desk and dropped heavily into the chair. Hazel had just left. "You'd think she done it," he said.

O'Leary smiled weakly. "Maybe she did. She's been Sawyer's girl friend and he wanted to call it quits—wanted to buy her off. She was insulted—so she says."

Carroll scratched his head and squinted. "Yeah, but Chief she couldn't have done it. She didn't have time. She left the other room and a couple of seconds later they heard her scream. She didn't have any gun. And the angle of the bullet is all wrong . . . comes from over here somewhere and not from that door."

"That's the trouble with this case, Sergeant—nobody could have done it . . . only someone did. Have you checked the servants?"

"Yeah. They were all in the kitchen—all except the chauffeur."

He was out in the room above the garage. He's the only one who was loose long enough to have taken a pot shot at Sawyer."

O'Leary looked up quickly. "Where is he now?"

"Still in his room. A couple of boys have their eyes on the garage. I thought you might want to see him."

"Okay, bring him in, Sergeant. We'll have a little talk with him."

It took Carroll five minutes to return with a medium-sized man, with swarthy skin and dark, wavy hair. There was a thin scar that ran along his neck and his eyes were deep and hollow.

O'Leary had been staring vacantly into the blackness through the French windows near the desk. He turned and took in the man with a swift glance. "Are you Mr. Sawyer's chauffeur?"

The man clenched his fist. "Yes, sir."

"Did you know Mr. Sawyer is dead?"

"Yes, sir. The cops—the officers told me."

"What's your name?"

"Riggs."

"Is that your real name?"

The man hesitated a moment. "No, sir. That's what Mr. Sawyer called me. My name's Carlos Gomez."

"Riggs will do . . . we'll call you that."

Carroll made a quick entry on a loose envelope in his pocket. O'Leary walked along the south edge of the room and perched finally on the arm of a broad sofa that stood before the fireplace. Riggs looked about him, and for a moment his eyes remained pinned to the large blotch in the sand-colored rug.

"Where were you tonight, Riggs?" O'Leary asked.

"Right here on the grounds . . . in my room."

"And you stayed there?"

"Yes, sir. I did."

"Did you hear anything—any noises at all . . . like someone prowling around?"

"No, sir."

"What were you doing in your room?"

"Reading a magazine."

Carroll kept his gaze steadily on the chauffeur, who stood rigidly at attention. O'Leary shifted his cigar from his hand to a corner of his mouth.

Accordion Players Present Program At Rotary Meet Here

Musicians Entertain at Friday Session of Local Clubmen

O. A. Schuette and four members of his accordion band furnished a splendid program at the weekly luncheon of the Jacksonville Rotary club Friday at the Dunlap hotel. John Hackett presided at the meeting and James Flynn chairman of the August program committee introduced Mr. Schuette who in turn introduced the members of the band.

The program opened with the band playing the "Loyalty Song." This song was written by Paul Schuette of St. Louis, brother of the local man. Mr. Schuette acted as director during the program.

The program follows:
Accord solo—"Playmates," Betty Rogers.

Vocal solo—"Leaning on the Old Top Rail," June Thompson. Miss Thompson played her own accompaniment.

Opera medley—by band.
Accord solo—"Anchors Aweigh," Dorothy Fox.

Vocal solo—"Alice Blue Gown," June Thompson, accompanied by Opal Lou Fox.

Accord solo—"Tantalizing," Betty Rogers.

Vocal solo—"In the Good Old U. S. A.," June Thompson, accompanied by band.

President Hackett announced that the meeting next Friday would be at the Jacksonville Country Club at 6:30 o'clock, daylight saving time. The dinner will follow the annual golf tournament which will start shortly after noon.

Discuss Telephone Rentals In Greene

Illinois Telephone Company At Carrollton Seeks Raise

Carrollton, Aug. 16.—Mayor N. D. Vedder, members of the city council, city officers and a few of the business men of this city, at a special meeting held in the council room, Wednesday evening listened to lengthy talks, giving figures and explanations of why the Illinois Telephone Co. at Carrollton is contemplating asking the Illinois state board of public utilities for permission to raise the rental charges on city and rural telephones, were made by R. D. Still, manager of the Wabash Bell Telephone Co., Bloomington; W. O. Randall, district manager, Illinois Telephone Co., Jacksonville; O. E. Fossett, local manager, Illinois Telephone Co.

The present rental of city phones, are business phones $3.00 a month; resident $2.25; two-party $2.00; four-party $1.75; all rural phones $1.50.

The company is asking permission to raise city business phones to $5.50 a month; resident, $3.00; no party lines in city hereafter; all rural phones $3.00. Mr. Still gave a lengthy talk with many figures on why the raise is necessary. He told that the company is losing heavily on the rural lines and that the rates on city phones must be raised to overcome this loss. He claimed that the raise in taxation, and the higher wages and shorter working hours makes a raise necessary.

Mr. Randall and local manager Fossett talked on the same lines, and also told of the excellent condition the service is in, with only a few exceptions. Mayor Vedder said he had contacted 19 rural subscribers and four of them would not talk on the raise, the other 15 stating they would discontinue service if any raise is made. Mr. Still said if a raise is allowed that probably five per cent of the phones would be discontinued.

Frank Corrington Weds Lucille Riggs In Friday Ceremony

Rev. M. L. Pontius Officiates At Rites Uniting Local Couple

Miss Lucille Riggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Riggs of Nortonville and Frank Corrington, of Jacksonville, son of Clifton Corrington, were united in marriage Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the Colonial Inn.

Rev. Myron L. Pontius officiated at the impressive ceremony, which was read before an altar formed of large baskets of gladioli and candles, arranged at the north end of the spacious west parlor of the Inn. Only the immediate members of the family were present.

The bride was gown in a teal blue afternoon dress and her flowers were orchids.

The bride attended the local schools, graduating from the Jacksonville high school. She attended MacMurtrei college and also took normal training at the Illinois School for the Deaf, where she has been an instructor for a number of years, and at present is rhythm teacher in the articular department.

The groom attended the Jacksonville schools and graduated from the high school in this city. He later graduated from Brown's Business college. For the past 14 years he has been in the automobile finance business and at present is district manager for the National Discount Corporation.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Corrington have many friends in Jacksonville and vicinity.

Following the ceremony delicious refreshments were served, featuring a large bride's cake, beautifully decorated. This was cut by the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Corrington left for a motor trip through the northern states and Canada. About September first they will be at home to their friends at 1052 West State street. Mrs. Corrington wore for her going away dress a grey sheer wool dress with black accessories.

Waverly School To Open September 2

Students of High School to Register Week Before Opening

Waverly, Aug. 16.—The Waverly Township High school will open on Monday, September 2. Students will be registered the week before the opening. To provide sufficient time to consider each student's problems individually, several days will be required for registration and classification.

A list of the names of the members of the faculty for the year follows: L. E. Leaver, principal and physics; Lohle Alderson, commercial subjects; Emory J. Carter, science, physical education, and athletics; E. G. Cleveland, social studies and manual training; F. L. Lancaster, mathematics and physical education; Genevieve Crouse, home economics; Delmar Smalley, English and library; Helen Smith, music, art, Latin and history; William R. Thornton, vocational agriculture; Ralph N. Wigg, band and English.

Improvements and additions have been made to the course of study to help meet the needs of the pupil. The commercial course has been strengthened by addition of a course in bookkeeping and by arrangement to offer advanced typewriting. A course in art appreciation was introduced last year and will be continued this year. The art course moved to one of the most popular and helpful courses offered. Arrangement has been made to provide better opportunities in the chorus classes. Better opportunity for band instruction has been provided. Probably there is no more important work in school than the physical and health education courses. These courses have been materially strengthened.

Repairs and improvements have been made on the building and grounds. Improvements include resurfacing the roof, painting outside and inside where paint was needed, new walks at the north entrance and at the south gymnasium entrance, installation of showers in the girls' dressing room, and many other minor repairs to building and equipment.

August 26, 9 a. m. to 12 noon—All freshmen will be given classification tests. Every freshman should be present at 9 o'clock.

August 27, 1 to 4 p. m.—Freshmen register.

August 28, 9 to 12 a. m.—Sophomores register.

August 29, 9 to 12 a. m.—Juniors register.

August 30, 9 to 12 a. m.—Seniors register.

Students should buy books after registration.
